

Consultative Group to Assist the Poor Resource Centers

Who:

Consultative Group to Assist the Poor (CGAP): CGAP is a consortium housed at the World Bank. CGAP helps to expand access to microfinance services for the poor in developing countries. As such, CGAP is a resource center for the entire microfinance industry.

What:

New or redesigned Resource Centers, Publications, Web conferences.

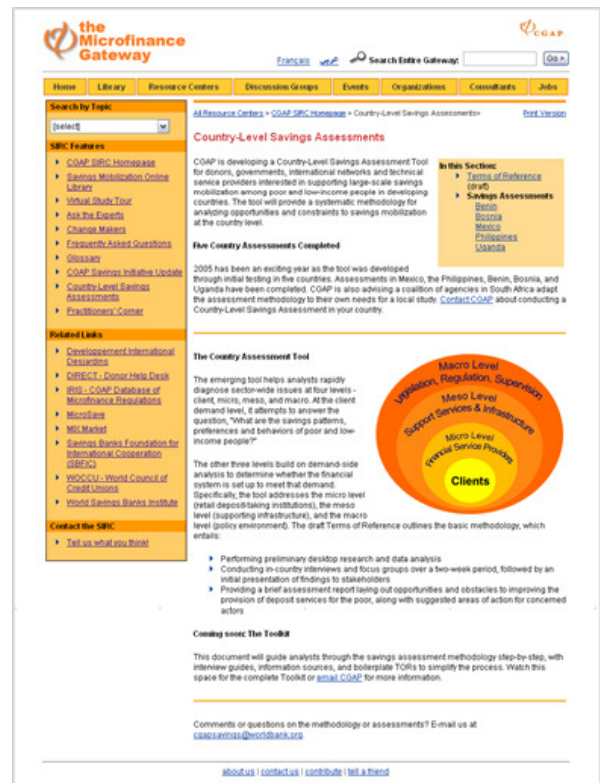

When:

April 2005-January 2007

Highlights:

CGAP has a number of resource centers used by microfinance service providers with information on all aspects of the microfinance industry.

- ⊕ Edited all copy for the launch of the new Savings Information, Regulations & Supervision, Technology, and Microinsurance resource centers.
- ⊕ Created a Web Style Guide for use by all content publishers to the Resource Centers.
- ⊕ Edited Web-only conference daily summaries and conference summations.
- ⊕ Provided editorial services to the Publications group for a number of papers and books.

Web Address:

http://microfinancegateway.org/resource_centers/savings/
http://microfinancegateway.org/resource_centers/reg_sup http://microfinancegateway.org/resource_centers/technology http://microfinancegateway.org/resource_centers/insurance/